Pro Sports in Aurora Mall

 October 5th, 2010  mike

Where you can find almost ANY piece of sporting apparel. I was shopping for my four year old girls birthday last week and could not for the life of me find any Broncos apparel.. but I really wanted something because she is becoming the biggest Bronco fan! I got a tip from someone in a different retail store – Sports Authority (which by the way has the most pathetic Broncos apparel section!) to try out Pro Sports in the Aurora Mall. Thank goodness I did, there were 3-4 different things to choose from for her, all in her size! Yep, definitely giving a good review to this place.. If you're looking for a specific team jersey, shirt, hat, etc.. definitely try here first.

Bent Fork Grill in Aurora

 September 30th, 2010  mike

The Bent Fork in Aurora is a great family restaurant. We enjoy dining there occasionally as the food is just as good as the price demands. They also have a very nice bar area and happy hour specials! Worth checking out, thumbs up on multiple great experiences.

Perkins Restaurants in Denver, Longmont

 September 30th, 2010  mike

Twice over the last couple months I've made my way to a Perkins Restaurant and both trips the food and service was above and beyond our expectations. Last time I was there for breakfast, as soon as I ordered coffee I had a fresh pot for myself in front of me. Our waitress made sure that we had every condiment (including Cholula hot sauce!) on our table before our food came out. Thanks for the great food and service!

Subway Clerk: Sorry, we can't break that $50 bill...

 August 5th, 2010  mike

Hey Subway! WTF is this new policy?

At SUBWAY in Aurora (I-225 and Mississippi) the other day when I walk in with two kids during the middle of lunch rush. There's a line out the door.. patiently we wait in line and make our order, get to the front and as I pull out my wallet I see a sign 'we don't accept bills over $20'. I cringe because I know I only have a $50 dollar bill in my pocket but I am sure she has enough cash to break it, since I saw the drawer open during the last transaction.

Nope, Subway employee tells me they don't take $50's because it's more likely they will get robbed if they were to accept bills over $20. She says I can go next door to get change, sorry.

Seriously, this is a bad business practice. That's like telling your customers "sorry, we'd rather you get robbed fetching us the correct change, to ensure our own safety." You're telling me SUBWAY can't afford to buy keep a safe in each location to keep cash they took in for the day? Bullshit.

Burger King on Mississippi and Peoria in Aurora Manager Never Called Back

 August 5th, 2010  mike

I only go here because it's convenient anyways but I just wanted to report that myself and a friend had another horrible breakfast experience at Burger King at Mississippi and Peoria in Aurora the other morning. Not only was our food order wrong but it was also terrible! Not even close to fresh, the biscuits were crumbling all over and the tater tots were cold.

Normally I would go back to get a refund or a new hot breakfast but we didn't have the time that day so I called the first number I could find online. I must have spoken with the regional manager who said his name was Steve. He listened to my rant then told me that Carrie the store manager for the location we visited that morning would be calling me back shortly and would work out something to make us happy. Needless to say, the call never came and were not going back.
